

Lung Foundation Australia, Brisbane

The Situation, uncovering the challenges

When the Lung Foundation, Australia's leading lung health body, was planning to relocate their headquarters in Brisbane CBD, they were searching for experienced direction to assist in the changes an office move presents - from new ways of working to planning the finer details of the move to procuring the right removalist company.

Tactic Property introduced the Transition team to collaborate with and guide The Lung Foundation to success. Through consistent communication and regularly meeting online, the interstate distance was barely felt.

Our Solutions

From the outset, Transition knew that all the Lung Foundation needed were the tools to "do it themselves". Our methods, strategies and oversight empowered this organisation to ensure tasks were on track, communication was timed perfectly, and their relocation was smooth.

We delivered

- Communication strategies to ensure clear and consistent messaging was upheld throughout the project timeline
- Core collateral, informative templates, and comprehensive pre move checklists to understand how to plan a relocation followed by action
- Detailed scope of works to procure appropriate suppliers to undertake relocation services
- Onsite relocation day management and oversight ensuring peace of mind
- Successful relocation delivery that was cost effective with business as usual operations first in mind

The Differences we made

- We provided confidence, both in person and online
- Consistent messaging meant staff were prepared for the relocation and were excited about their new workspace
- Successful Engagement of correct removalist services to carry out service delivery
